NEW STATE-OF-THE-ART IMAGING SYSTEM ADDS SPEED, ACCURACY TO HEART SCANS

Cardiology Group of Western New York's Imaging Equipment Improves Care

Williamsville, NY. – Cardiology Group of Western New York, P.C., the largest cardiology practice in the area, has announced the acquisition of the new Discovery™ NM 530 nuclear imaging system. Adding this high-tech equipment to their arsenal will add both speed and accuracy to their imaging – and improve patient comfort as well. The new imaging system will reduce scanning time for heart scans from the usual 15-20 minutes to a greatly reduced 3-5 minutes for each scan. Instead of having to hold their arms over their head for a lengthy period of time, patients at Cardiology Group of Western New York will need to do so for just a few minutes, providing more comfort and less anxiety for the patient.

The shorter, more comfortable scan also can reduce possible artifacts in the scan that often result from patient movement due to painful positioning or discomfort.
